

Finding the best Italian restaurant for people who travel to Toronto

1. Introduction

With the development of economy and society, more and more people like to travel on holidays. Toronto, Canada is an international city which located in the east of Canada, near the border between the United States and Canada. Toronto has very magnificent natural and cultural landscapes. Lots of Americans like to go to Toronto on holidays, but there are also many inconvenient to travel in a strange city. Especially how to find your favorite foods in a strange city? In this project, I will answer that question. This project will help those who like Italian cuisine to find their favorite restaurants in Toronto.

2. Business Problem

Toronto is an international city with a population of over 3 million. Therefore, it is very difficult to find a favorite restaurant. In this project, I will use the data science knowledge I have learned to answer the following questions:

- How many Italian restaurants in Toronto?
- Where could we find these Italian restaurants?
- Which neighborhood would I recommend finding the best Italian restaurant and why I recommend it?
